MHS TIGERS OVER FULTON CITY 41 TO 14

Seen&Heard Around Murray

Now a good reader from the New Concord area sends in some roses for Darrell Shoemaker.

"He was outstanding in his service to his country and has been a successful young business man of Calloway", she writes. The reader encloses a clipping from the May 10, 1945 Ledger and Times which was cut out at the time. We print it as follows:

GREAT LAKES, Ill., May 3.—William Darrell Shoemaker, 27, West Main Street, Murray, Ky., was graduated from recruit training April 25 as honor man of his company at the U. S. Naval Training Center here and is now on leave.

Shoemaker was elected a candidate by fellow bluejackets and selected as honor man by his company commander on the basis of military aptitude and progress. He has been recommended to attend Storekeeper's School for further training.

Prior to joining the Navy he was employed as a bookkeeper for Doran Lowe Leaf Floor in Murray.

He is spending his leave with his wife in Murray.

This clipping probably brings back some memories for Darrell. It is difficult to conceive for WWII veterans that all this happened about 25 years ago, but it did. Anyway here's some news to you Darrell.

Amazing what a good cleaning will do for a typewriter. We have typed on it all day and it has not mispelled one word.

Also it does not make as much racket as it did. We think the roller on a typewriter should be changed at least every twenty years whether it needs it or not.

Hensley's Target Topics had the following which we are reprinting for the benefit of all you folks in the service business. You know, when folks howl because of the price when you did some simple thing to get things going again. Here goes.

An important and expensive machine in a large factory suddenly went out of order one day and would not function. The machine was producing a particular part needed for a large order which was to be shipped in a few days, and the produc-

Laker Band Boosters Plan Auction Sale

The Calloway County Band under the direction of David Berry is looking forward to its best year ever.

The band plans include appearances in local and area parades starting with the Murray State University Homecoming Parade, several concerts including the district concert contest, and a trip in the spring.

This year the group's main goal is the purchasing of new uniforms. Several fund raising projects are planned during the school year.

The first of these will be an auction at Calloway County High School on Thursday, October 9, at 7:30 p.m. Donations of old furniture, appliances, and any other articles large or small will be picked up anywhere in the county by members of the band booster's club, Berry said.

Numbers to call in the area are Almo 753-3077, Faxon 753-7670, Hazel 492-8714 or 492-8581, Kirksey 753-5975 or 489-3772, Pottertown 436-2371, and New Concord 753-4968 or 753-3848.

Three Deacons Are Omitted In Story

The West Fork Baptist Church will have its dedication of the new church building and note burning ceremony on Sunday, September 28, at 11 a.m. In a feature story on the church in Friday's Ledger & Times, the names of three of the deacons were omitted in setting the type for the story. Names left out were Jack Norsworthy, Woodrow Norsworthy, and Festus Story. The church was organized in 1889 instead of the date as released by church officials.

Vandalism Reported On 1957 Chevrolet

Stanley Chessor of New Madrid, Mo., was returned here Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Calton Morgan on a charge of forgery, according to Sheriff Fannie Stubblefield. He waived extradition and is now in Calloway County Jail.

Several checks written by Chessor and Patricia English are still thought to be out, according to the sheriff and she asks persons to bring them in to her office.

Community Committeemen Are Named By ASC Office

Newly elected Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation community committeemen throughout the county also have been elected to another position. Chairman Ollie C. Hall of the Calloway County ASC Committee said the new ASC community committeemen also will be delegates to the convention which will fill vacancies on the county ASC committee.

The convention will be held September 30, 9:00 a.m. at the ASCS Office and is open to the public. At that time, delegates who are the just-elected ASC community committeemen will choose a member to the County Committee for three year terms. Incumbent county committeemen are Ollie C. Hall, N. E. Cohoon and Otto W. Chester.

The year-round task of ASC community committeemen is to help the county ASC Committee administer national farm programs on the local level. The following persons were elected community committeemen:

A - Murray Community: chairman, Clovis Byerly, Regular Member A. A. Doherty, First Alternate, Robert Steele, Second Alternate, Bryan Galloway. B - Concord Community: W. T. Kingins, chairman, Vice-

Taylor Men Visiting Here

The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Taylor of New Concord who are serving with the Armed Forces are now visiting here with their parents and family.

Pvt. Patrick R. Taylor is serving with the U.S. Marines. His address is Pvt. Patrick R. Taylor 2553849, 2nd Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, Camp Lejeune, N. C. 28542.

Patrick enlisted in the USMC in June 1969 after graduating from Calloway County High School. He completed his recruit training at Parris Island, S. C., and his advance infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He is presently assigned as a 81 MM Mortarman at Camp Lejeune awaiting further orders.

The Marine is now on a 20 day leave with his parents. Max J. Taylor graduated from Calloway County High School in June of 1964 and attended the fall semester of 1965 at Murray State University before enlisting in the U.S. Navy in June of 1966.

Taylor completed recruit training at Great Lakes Naval Station and was assigned to Quonset Point, R. I., where he met and married Miss Vivian Bouchet of Woonsocket, R. I., on February 28, 1967. Their son, Tommy, was born in Woonsocket on December 1, 1968.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Taylor and son were residing at the U. S. Naval Air Base, Cecil Field, Florida, until Taylor was assigned to sea duty aboard the USS Ticonderoga in the Pacific Ocean area.

He, his wife, and son are now visiting his parents at New Concord.

Max's address is PO 2nd Class Max J. Taylor, U. S. Naval Base, Cecil Field, Fla.

Mark Up Third Win Of Year To Mar Bulldog 3-0 Record

The Murray High Tigers combined a vicious defense with some fancy running and an improved aerial attack to down the Fulton City Bulldogs 41 to 14 before a packed stadium here last night.

The Murray defense shined last night and forced the Bulldogs to resort to an aerial attack in order to make headway. They gave ground grudgingly through the middle as big Tripp Williams, 205 pound end repeatedly turned in the ball car-gain and two more extra points were marked up. A Williams to Williams pass gained good yardage on this TD drive moving the ball from the 40 to the Fulton 12. This score came with 6:15 on the clock.

Murray's last score before the half ended came with 1:20 left. Murray had kicked out to the Fulton 29 and Steve Erickson returned the ball to his own 39 for a first down. Powerhouse Marvin Green gained another yard to the 40. Quarterback Bob Nanney fumbled the ball on the next play and John Rayburn, in a quick thinking move, grabbed the loose ball and raced the distance for the score. Johnny Williams pass attempt failed.

Fulton gained one of their two touchdowns with 4:56 left in the half. Taking the ball on

Tiger Band Sparkles Under Lights

The Murray High School Tiger Band put on another sparkling performance Friday night to thrill a filled stadium of fans on hand to view the Tiger-Fulton City encounter.

The 100 piece band under the direction of Phil Shelton and Ed Welte made a down field entrance to "Freedom City" then went into an intricate diamond drill where a small diamond emerges within a larger one.

Majorettes Linda Boyd, Connie Lowry, Nancy Jones, Nancy Diuguid, Marilyn Simons, and Cindy Parker put a fancy twist to the tune of "Windy". The band closed with the traditional Tiger Victory March.

Drum Majors Suzanne Jones and Brenda Richardson along with the high-stepping Black and Gold Band will travel to Bowling Green next week to boost the Tigers.

rier where he was snagged by the line.

Murray's six scores were well distributed last night with Jimmy Brandon running over two from the 5 and 2 respectively, Tripp Williams moved over on a pass from Johnny Williams, Porter McCuiston covered the distance from his own 28 on a punt return, Danny Carroll moved in from the Fulton 30 after taking in a pass from Porter McCuiston, and John Rayburn, on a wide awake play, picked up a Fulton fumble on the Fulton 34 to race in untouched.

Murray did better in the extra point department last night. A Williams to Williams pass accounted for two points, then repeated later in the game for another pair via the same method. Kip Clopton made one extra point kick good for a total for the Tigers of five extra points. Murray missed one kick, failed on an extra point pass and was stopped on one attempt to run the extra point.

The Tigers first TD came about as a result of a recovered fumble on the Fulton 15. Johnny Williams moved to the Fulton 10, then the 5 where 190 pound fullback Jimmy Brandon bulled through for the score. Clopton's kick was no good. This score came with 6:27 left in the first period.

The Tigers scored three times in the second quarter, and Fulton picked up one of their two TD's.

With 9:40 left in the half and Murray on the Bulldog 32, Johnny Williams planted a bomb near the Fulton goal where Tripp Williams gathered it in to score. Murray had started on their own 34 and McCuiston, Johnny Williams, and Danny Carroll moved the ball in seven plays to the 32. The Williams to Williams combination worked again on the extra point attempt.

Later in the period Fulton kicked out to the Murray 40 and fleet footed Porter McCuiston promptly returned it to the Bulldog 40. Williams and Brandon moved on down to the Bulldog 2 where Brandon slashed across for the score. The Williams pass formula worked a-

Creason To Be Speaker At MSU Meet

Newspaper columnist Joe Creason of the Louisville Courier-Journal — a leading authority on Kentucky's history and its people — will be the featured speaker at the 85th annual First District Educator Association meeting at Murray State University October 10.

Scheduled to speak during the morning program in the university auditorium, Creason has chosen as his topic "The Kentuckian — A Species That Must Be Preserved." Harper Stackhouse of Paducah, FDEA president, will preside.

Also scheduled to appear on the morning program is Dr. Harry M. Sparks, president of Murray State. The Murray State University band and choir will provide the music for the program.

Luncheons for different sections of the association are planned at several sites, followed by group conferences in the afternoon.

Creason, a native of Benton, has been writing a daily column in the Courier-Journal since 1963. Before that, he spent 20 years as a feature writer for the Sunday Magazine. A World War II Navy veter-

$1 Million In Pocket, Man Hunts For Job

NEW YORK (UPI) — William Nelson, 26, went job hunting with $1 million in his pocket.

Nelson, leaving his current job and looking for a new one while on vacation, found a check in the street a couple of days ago. He didn't pay much attention to it until he got home that night and then found it was for $1,000,000 — drawn by the American Bank & Trust Co., to the order of the French American Banking Corp. at the request of the Swiss Israel Trade Bank of London, for the account of British & French Bank, Ltd. London.

He and his 23-year-old wife decided it would be a waste of time trying to cash such a complex item. Wednesday, Nelson brought the check to the New York Daily News, who put him in touch with the American Bank & Trust Co.

The bank said they already had put a hold order on the check but would appreciate it if he would bring the check back, which would save them a lot of paperwork. Nelson did — and received $50 in "expenses" from the bank. "The one thing they didn't do was offer me a job," Nelson added.

Newsprint Price Increase Announced

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Bowater Paper Corp. announced Wednesday it would increase its newsprint prices to $152 a ton effective Jan. 1. Most competitors took a "we are studying it" stance.

If the other major competitors follow Bowater, it would mark the third general increase in two years. Prices were raised $3 across the board in 1967. Earlier this year, prices were upped again with the East paying $1 a ton less.

Bowater eliminated the differential Wednesday by hiking prices $5 in the East and $4 in the other markets.

Down the Garden Path

By Mrs. W. P. WILLIAMS

It is time to begin thinking about bringing potted plants indoors, as it will not be too long before there is a touch of frost.

If your plants have been out in the yard it might be wise to set them in a more sheltered place and in a week or so bring them in the house before heat is turned on. Let them gradually become accustomed to a different atmosphere from the out-doors, they will need more moisture as homes are usually drier. Soak them thoroughly and then wait until the top soil is dry before watering again.

It is better not to expose them to the direct sun, especially until after a few weeks in the house. Some plants should never have direct sun, but plenty of light. Don't over feed them during the winter as usually growth is slowed down.

Remember that any changes you want to make in the flower garden should be made now so that plants may have time to set their roots and put out new ones before the weather turns too cold. And while we can take a look at our yards while they are green and flowers blooming is the best time to make changes. How many times I have intended to move some of the things in the yard and have waited too long and then forget which color goes where. I have intended for several years to put a dark purple iris under a yellow shrub and have not yet done so, as I forget which one of the iris is the dark one that I want.

So "NOW" is an important word in gardening and one that is too often put aside. Like so many other tasks, if it is done at the proper time, it is much easier and more satisfactory.

Don't forget to go after those weeds before they go to seed. One plant chopped down now will keep away several dozen that would have to be chopped down next spring. And please do save these leaves that are going to be coming down, in fact some, like the poplars, are already beginning to shed a few. We can use them for mulch this winter, and next spring the compost will be ideal to put around the roots of any acid loving plants. Really it can be used, when fully decomposed, around any shrub as it simply replaces in the soil the element that is taken out by the plant.

ALMANAC

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, Sept. 27, the 270th day of 1969, with 95 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1825 — In England, George Stephenson operated the first locomotive to pull a passenger train.

In 1939 after 19 days of resisting heavy air raids and an artillery bombardment, the defenders of Warsaw surrendered to the Nazis.

In 1940 Germany, Italy and Japan signed a 10-year mutual aid pact, forming the axis powers in World War II against the allies.

In 1961 Syria broke away from the United Arab Republic in a revolt led by army officers.

A thought for the day: American cartoonist William Mauldin said, "Look into an infantryman's eyes and you will tell how much war he has seen."

Television In Review

By RICK DU-BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Leslie Uggams arrives in her own series on CBS-TV Sunday as the regular replacement for the Smothers Brothers, who are being canceled.

And a preview of the opening hour indicates that while the Uggams show has some contemporary material, it will definitely tread more softly than the brothers' series did.

Not that the Smothers were really controversial—at least on their show. By any adult standards, their series was positively innocuous. Woody Allen's recent CBS-TV special, for instance, was far more racy and biting.

Some industryites, in fact, are wondering whether CBS-TV was subtly expressing its personal feelings about the brothers by letting Allen get away with as much as he did.

At any rate, Sunday's Uggams variety show is a mixed blessing. The star herself is a fine performer—good singer, dancer and comedienne. And she has a warm and lovely presence.

Impressionist David Frye is a guest, and his impersonations of political figures are by now repetitious to video audiences. A musical group called Sly and the Family Stone is no more distinguished than any number of other pop record stars. And young Marc Copage of the "Julia" series is no particular plus.

Dick Van Dyke is also an Uggams guest. And though an early, allegedly "cute" song he does with her is strictly nowhere, he does contribute the hour's highlight: an impression of how a not-too-brilliant Abe Lincoln might have composed the Gettysburg Address on a train with the accidental aid of passersby.

From Doris Day to Leslie Uggams, CBS-TV seems to run its stars through a ringer so they all have determinedly down-home approach, natural or not. But one segment of the Uggams series sure to catch attention is called "Sugar Hill," a weekly comedy episode about a Negro family.

This segment, judging by the opener, is hardly likely to set any new records for realism. But the idea of a mini-situation comedy each week about such a family has appeal, and the first one had the feel of a tryout for a spinoff of a series of its own.

I wonder, though, whether video's overall, determinedly cute self-consciousness of black performers kidding themselves about their blackness—in the bourgeois way that network liberals might smilingly approve—is getting to be as cloying to you as it is to me. No one can make brotherhood more of a bore than professional liberals can. Soul brothers they ain't.

Well, anyway, CBS-TV has also previewed for critics a new situation comedy that debuts Sunday: "To Rome, With Love." It stars John Forsythe as an American professor in Rome. He is a widower with three daughters. You say that last part sounds familiar? How can you say that? You must be getting cynical.

Jungleland Is Set For Auction Block

By JACK V. FOX

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (UPI) — Would you buy a used hippopotamus from this man?

That is what Milton J. Wershow, one of the nation's top auctioneers, will find out Oct. 8 when he puts on the block the animal population of Jungleland, including 14 lions, 10 tigers, 7 elephants, 2 hippos, 7 two-hump camels and an array of 1,800 other birds and beasts all the way down to the skunk.

Jungleland Inc., for 43 years a zoo tourist attraction and trainer of animal movie stars has gone into bankruptcy and its personnel will be sold at auction to pay off the debtors.

Wershow said that if the top bid for an ostrich is $1, that's what the bird will go for. He hopes to sell an animal a minute during the auction.

While an elephant could possibly be snapped up for a couple of bucks, Wershow will have an animal price expert at his side to suggest just what a pachyderm is going for these days.

"Actually I don't know a thing about animals," Wershow said. "But it's a challenge. There is a sort of blue book, as they use for used automobiles, for animals so I have some guidance to what a bare-eyed coddler is worth. But the law of supply and demand will prevail and we are going to sell every single animal no matter what price he brings."

The buyers will range from public zoos to Ed Sullivan-type animal acts for show biz to little old ladies from Pasadena who might like to have a pigmy goat of their own.

"I'm told one of the costliest items is the two-hump camel," Wershow said. "They may go for $5,000 apiece. Lions and tigers are big and the orangutan is a gold mine."

Wershow said he would use wireless microphones to get bids from the audience.

"I used to have a bidder who would scratch when he wanted to raise the price," he said. "But in this case it would probably be impractical."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — A recession lies directly ahead and it will persist into the second half of 1970, according to Wright Investors' Service. The firm sees a sharp upswing beginning late in 1970 and continuing with only minor interruptions during the next few years.

Glore Forgan, Wm. R. Staats Inc. finds oddlot transactions "have swung clearly to the sell side" and also notes that the New York Stock Exchange short interest ratio is at its highest level in more than a year. The number of stocks which appear to have seen their bear market lows is increasing rapidly and the market seems technically capable of mounting a rally, the firm says.

Prospects for heavy tax-loss selling this fall and for a 10 to 15 per cent drop in pre-tax corporate profits over the next two or three quarters are likely to hold the stock market to a base-building phase for a while, Goodbody & Co. says. However, if September economic statistics confirm the suggestion made by the August figures that fiscal and monetary curbs are beginning to take effect, there could be some easing in money rates and supply that would favorably influence stock prices, the firm adds.

Certain areas of independent strength are showing up within the framework of the general market, which now seems to be consolidating gradually and forming a valid and quite necessary base, according to Hayden, Stone Inc.

WORKERS BOUNCE BACK

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI) — Some 2,000 employees returned to their jobs at the Firestone Rubber Co. plant here today, ending a 40-day walkout for better working conditions.

The strike ended Thursday following a warning from the company it would fire any employee who was not back on the job today.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

By STEVE GERSTEL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hugh Scott, beaming, bubbly and bouncy, had just kissed his wife for the third time (once spontaneously and twice for the photographers) when the green telephone rang in the corner of the crowded room.

The portly Pennsylvanian bustled his way through the chairs and the people to accept congratulations on his selection as Senate Republican leader from the No. 1 Republican, President Nixon.

The call was friendly and cordial and the President and the senator even mused about how nice it might be in January 1971, if the Republicans gained control of the Senate and Scott could be the majority leader rather than the minority leader.

Strong Chances
The chances are strong that communications won't always be as jolly between the two. But acrimony will likely be avoided. They are old pals who can disagree and then disagree the disagreement.

Scott, a 68-year-old remnant of the days when the eastern money establishment controlled the Republican party, is outspoken and independent. And he does not see eye-to-eye with Nixon on everything.

For instance, it will be impossible for Scott to lead the Nixon administration's voting rights proposal. Scott and all liberals feel it would weaken the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

A long-time civil rights champion, Scott is also certain to oppose Nixon on any moves to implement a "southern strategy" or any legislative attempts to backpedal on the many rights laws enacted in the past several years.

It is also probable that Scott would balk at administration moves to reduce outlays for so-called city programs such as welfare, hunger and summer jobs for ghetto kids.

Congratulations Griffin
A few hours after calling Scott, the President was on the line again to Sen. Robert Griffin of Michigan to congratulate him for his selection as assistant Republican leader in the Senate.

Griffin didn't kiss his wife (she was there) and was so excited by his election he could do little more than mumble his thanks to the Chief Executive.

Griffin had the backing of the Senate's liberal Republicans in the showdown vote for whip against Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, but he is considered more of a middle-roader than Scott.

Griffin probably has fewer reservations about Nixon policies than Scott although he certainly would also balk at any southern strategy.

LASHING LADY
TOKYO (UPI) — Typhoon Elsie lashed Okinawa with 118 mile per hour winds today and the Japan Meteorological Agency said the storm may turn toward China and miss the islands of Japan.

Dan Dailey Not Worried About Show

By VERNON SCOTT

UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Dan Dailey sat on the set of his new television series more interested in lunch than the rehearsal.

He has been around movie and television long enough to know there are few surprises and almost no pleasant surprises. He is heavier than he was a few years ago, his face redder, his hair thinner.

While Dailey may not be cynical, neither is he panting with anxiety over public reception of his new show, "The Governor and J.J."

Of the recent hubbub created by Debbie Reynolds objecting to her career sponsor, Dailey groaned, "We have a cigarette sponsor and I'd quit if we didn't have a tobacco company picking up the tab."

"We get all our cigarettes for free this way. And I smoke about a pack a day."

The actor lighted a cigarette and scowled in the direction of the set where stagehands were scurrying around preparing the scene. Dailey hasn't scurried in years.

He is a veteran of 50 motion pictures, at least half of them "B" epics made on the back lot at MGM.

"I made two pictures in 15 days before World War II," Dailey said with little fondness for the past. "In one of them, my co-stars were Andy Devine and Leo Carillo. The other was a musical co-starring Donald O'Connor, Peggy Ryan and the Andrews Sisters."

Dailey shuddered and jerked his thumb at the door of his dressing room. It read: "I'm Number 3. I don't try at all."

"You'd go out of your mind if you took this business seriously," he said. "Or maybe I'm so new to this weekly situation comedy idea that I don't know enough to get excited."

"I'm doing the show because they aren't making as many movies as they used to. They wouldn't want me in the kind of pictures they make today anyhow because I don't look good in the nude."

"Fifteen or 20 years ago I had a good build and I might have been a nude star. But not today."

In the new CBS series Dailey plays Gov. William Drinkwater. The J.J. of the title is his teenage daughter. The show is predicated on laughs gleaned from the generation gap.

"I can't tell if the show will be a hit or a miss," he said without enthusiasm. "I'm no judge. Some shows that have been on the air for five years I'd have said wouldn't last five minutes."

"But then I don't spend much time watching television. I live at Malibu and I'd rather look at the ocean."

Dailey wasn't asked if he would look at his show also.

UK Defenses To Be Tested

By BOB WESTON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — While John Ray was establishing a reputation as a defensive genius at Notre Dame the general feeling was there would be men on the moon before one of his football teams gave up 50 points.

Well, man has indeed reached the moon and now a John Ray-coached team has yielded 8 points in one game — the 58 Kentucky Wildcats gave up to Indiana in that "track meet" at Lexington last Saturday.

And now the world is out at Lexington that there'll be men on the sun before another Ray-coached eleven allows 58 points. So determined is the new Kentucky coach to erase this fresh tarnish on his reputation.

Ray's defenses will be sorely tested again Saturday night at Stoll Field. When an explosive Ole Miss team, loaded with veteran talent, invades.

In Mississippi's Archie Manning, Kentucky will be facing a quarterback at least the equal of Indiana's Harry Gonso, according to the scouts.

Gonso, the key man in Indiana's go-go attack, accounted for four touchdowns, running and passing, against Kentucky.

"Manning is a tremendous football player," raves Ole Miss Coach John Vaughn, who makes no bones about his belief in the Rebels' destiny to wind up as Southeastern Conference champions.

"We honestly think we'll win it," he proclaimed before the season opened, Mississippi's 28-3 romp over Memphis State last Saturday certainly did not change his mind.

Ole Miss was ranked No. 13 in the nation in this week's UPI poll and is expected to be a two-touchdown favorite in Saturday's game.

Three injured Kentucky players may be sidelined Saturday, while a fourth is definitely out of action. In the uncertain category are ends Phil Thompson and Vic King and offensive guard Fred Conger. Offensive tackle Al Fisher will be on the shelf for several weeks.

Elsewhere on the football front, two of the state's Ohio Valley Conference teams are at home Saturday and the other two are on the road.

Eastern Kentucky, ranked No. 4 in the country in the UPI small college ratings, visits East Tennessee, Western Kentucky, No. 19 in the same ratings, is at Austin Peay.

Murray plays host to Tennessee Tech and Morehead enters Middle Tennessee.

Eastern, Murray and Morehead opened their seasons with victories last week, while Western settled for a 7-7 tie with Indiana State.

George town I-I on the season, will be at home Saturday against North Park of Chicago. Central faces Southwestern College of Tennessee in its first home game. Kentucky State, hoping to rebound from a 40-0 pasting at the hands of Tennessee State, takes on Alcorn A. and M. at Frankfort.

Louisville will have this weekend off before taking on the University of Dayton, Oct. 4.

DOUBTFUL HOMECOMING

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Half-back Leroy Kelly, defensive back Erich Barnes and guard Gene Hickerson all are doubtful performers for the Cleveland Browns' home opener against Washington Sunday.

Kelly, who was given a 50-50 chance of playing by team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito pulled a muscle in the opening quarter of last Sunday's game against Philadelphia. Barnes and Hickerson sustained bruises.

Sand collector

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Leon Seltzer, dean of St. Louis University's Parks Air College, takes sand from golf course traps home with him.

Seltzer toured Great Britain and played some of the world's best known and sandiest courses. From each course Seltzer brought back a sand sample — 11 vials of the stuff double bogies are made of. He said he plans to use it in a sort of golf museum he's building in his basement so he can show guests the sand from courses he played.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Is the Pack back?

Phil Bengston, the one who'll be the first to know, is cautious by nature. He doesn't get himself worked up too easily and speaking of Green Bay's impressive 17-0 opening win over Chicago he merely says, "One game doesn't make a season."

Milky Picks Packers
From another coach that wouldn't mean much, from Phil Bengston it's tantamount to him going up and filling in for the head Green Bay cheer leader.

The Packers could be a bit overconfident against San Francisco at Milwaukee Sunday but I look for them to beat the Forty Niners, maybe by as little as a field goal, and maybe after even coming from behind.

Here's the way I see the other NFL games:

Washington over Cleveland — Sonny Jurgensen is acclimating himself more and more to the Lombardi system; besides Leroy Kelly has hamstring trouble.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 28

Buffalo-Denver
Cincinnati-Kansas City
Houston-Miami
San Diego-New York
Boston-Oakland

Philadelphia over Pittsburgh — Pete Rozelle can tell you about any given Sunday.

Detroit over New York — Alex Webster discovers a few things he suspected all along.

Baltimore over Minnesota — Suddenly this becomes the BIG game of the season for the Colts.

Los Angeles over Atlanta — Much closer than generally figured though.

Dallas over New Orleans — That Dallas defense must have a grudge against somebody.

Chicago over St. Louis — Bears usually manage to win one just when it begins to look like a long season.

The AFL

I believe, I believe Paul Brown has the nucleus of a better ball club in the Cincinnati Bengals than even the Kansas City Chiefs have been led to believe. And I believe the Bengals will make it three in a row Sunday by beating a Kansas City club minus Len Dawson.

New York over San Diego — John Hadl has arm trouble.

Oakland over Boston — Clive Rush still working on problems.

Miami over Houston — George Wilson has Dolphins believing in themselves and anytime that happens, you can get ready for an upset.

Buttalo over Denver — Floyd Little hurt his shoulder against the Jets. O.J. Simpson is getting more and more adjusted.

The Colleges

Notre Dame takes on Purdue Saturday and the Bollermakers are one-point favorites, meaning the Irish are underdogs for only the second time in Ara Parseghian's six-year reign.

One of the reasons Purdue is favored is because it'll be playing at home. Another reason, of course, is big Mike Phipps.

"Nobody in the country has a better passing arm than he has," says his coach, Jack Mollenkopf. "He sets up quickly and I think he'll be able to pass against anyone."

So do I so I'm going with Purdue.

In some of the other key contests, I like Ohio State over Texas Christian, Florida over Mississippi State, Penn State over Colorado, Texas over Texas Tech and Stanford over Oregon.

By sections:

East — Boston College over Navy, Rutgers over Princeton, Holy Cross over Harvard, Pennsylvania over Bucknell, Dartmouth over New Hampshire, Temple over William and Mary, Brown over Rhode Island, Buffalo over Massachusetts, Boston U. over Vermont, Yale over Connecticut and Columbia over Lafayette.

Midwest — Michigan State over SMU, Michigan over Washington, Oklahoma over Pittsburgh, Indiana over California, UCLA over Wisconsin, Missouri over Illinois, Kansas over Syracuse, Texas A&M over Nebraska, Ohio U. over Minnesota, Washington State over Iowa, Miami, O., over Western Michigan, Iowa State over Brigham Young, Bowling Green over Dayton and Kent State over Xavier.

South — Army over Vanderbilt, Tennessee over Auburn, Florida State over Miami, Georgia over Clemson, Mississippi over Kentucky, Baylor over Georgia Tech, South Carolina over North Carolina, Alabama over Southern Mississippi, Duke over Virginia, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest, Richmond over VMI, North Carolina State over Maryland, Tulane over West Virginia and Memphis State over North Texas State.

Southwest — LSU over Rice, Oregon State over Arizona State, Arkansas over Tulsa, Arizona over Kansas State, Houston over Oklahoma State and the University of Texas at El Paso over New Mexico.

Far West — Southern California over Northwestern, Air Force over Wyoming, Utah over San Jose State, Wichita State over Colorado State and Pacific over Utah State.

Vikings And Colts Meet In Top NFL Clash This Sunday

By United Press International

In the harshly competitive world of professional football, there is no time to lick your wounds.

Each week offers a different challenge, and it isn't wise to look back on last week's problems. Both the Minnesota Vikings and the Baltimore Colts are aware of this fact, but it is the mark of a champion to eye only the present.

The Vikings and the Colts, pre-season favorites to win their respective divisions in the National Football League, meet Sunday at Minnesota and both are anxious to find out if they are made of championship caliber. Both lost their openers last weekend and really can't afford another loss so soon.

The Vikings, who lost to the Giants 24-23 in the final minute, were really banged up in New York and have three key men who will not be at full strength for Sunday's game. Tackle Doug Davis suffered a twisted knee, guard Borkie Bolla got leg cramps and receiver Gene Washington received a hyperextended knee.

On top of that, the Vikings were really shocked by the Giants comeback and must try to regain their composure for the Colts. Coach Bud Grant realizes that this is an important challenge to the team.

"We were disappointed at losing to the Giants. In those final moments it appeared that they wanted the game more than we did. However, we certainly have no time to lick our wounds," Grant said.

"There is no team in football with better personnel than the Baltimore Colts. We discovered that first-hand last December in the western title game. We face an important week — just as all of them are — because we must regroup and prepare to play a great football team. And the Colts are just as disappointed as we are after their opening loss to the Rams. At New York we didn't finish off the scoring opportunities that presented themselves. Against a team of Baltimore's ability we can't afford to do that again," Grant concluded.

The Colts, who lost to the Rams 27-20 last Sunday, are not in as bad shape physically as the Vikings. They suffered no injuries and guard Dan Sullivan and running back Jerry Hill are expected back for Sunday's game. Sullivan was out last weekend with a pulled hamstring muscle and Hill has apparently recovered from knee surgery. Baltimore is a two-point choice.

Joe Louis Treated For Mental Letdown

DETROIT (UPI) — Joe Louis, the "Brown Bomber" who held the world heavyweight boxing championship for almost 12 years, cannot stay away from the sport he loves.

Within hours after checking out of a Detroit hospital Thursday where his doctor said he was being treated for an "emotional and mental letdown," Louis, now 56, flew to Wichita Falls, Tex., to referee a boxing match that night.

But there was some confusion over the ailment that kept Louis in two Detroit hospitals for seven days.

Dr. Robert C. Bennett, his longtime friend and personal physician, had said a team of physicians at Henry Ford Hospital were conducting psychological and neurological tests to determine the cause of the "mental letdown."

"We don't know what's causing the problem...an old head injury or what," Bennett said. "We know he took a lot of hits in the head and that sort of thing when he was fighting."

In Oklahoma City, where Louis and his wife, Martha, stopped off before the former champ continued on for his refereeing job, Mrs. Louis said her husband had been hospitalized for a "physical examination" rather than any mental problem.

Officials at Ford Hospital would only say Louis was discharged and would not comment whether he was discharged by Bennett or simply signed himself out of the hospital as he did in June after collapsing on a New York street.

In June, Louis was described as appearing very tired and he blamed "physical fatigue" for the collapse. He was kept at Beekman Downtown Hospital for 31 hours, signed himself out and flew to Detroit where Bennett cared for him.

In other NFL action, Atlanta (1-0) is at Los Angeles (1-0), Washington (1-0) at Cleveland (1-0), Dallas (1-0) at New Orleans (0-1), San Francisco (0-1) vs. Green Bay (1-0) at Milwaukee, New York (1-0) at Detroit (0-1), Pittsburgh (1-0) at Philadelphia (0-1) and Chicago (0-1) at St. Louis (0-1).

The Falcons surprised San Francisco, 24-12, last weekend and had the top ground attack of opening day, 229 yards. But against the Rams they'll be faced with running against one of the top rushing defenses in the league, and Los Angeles is a 16-point choice to stop them.

The Redskins, who won their opener for coach Vince Lombardi, will be seeking to snap a 10-game Cleveland winning streak in their series which stands 29-5-1 in favor of the Browns. Cleveland running back Leroy Kelly, who suffered a pulled hamstring against the Eagles last weekend, is listed as a possible starter, but the Browns won't be hurting if Kelly can't start. Rookie Ron Johnson impressed with 118 yards in 17 carries and second-year man Reece Morrison filled in admirably for Kelly with 48 yards in 16 attempts. The Browns are a six-point choice.

Craig Morton is expected to return at quarterback for the Cowboys against the Saints, even though substitute Roger Staubach performed well in a 24-3 victory over New Orleans. Morton, who has had a dislocated right index finger, was the only adding member of the Cowboys and his expected presence makes Dallas a 13-point choice.

Green Bay, which unveiled a solid defense against Chicago last weekend, is a nine-point choice over San Francisco; Detroit, entertaining the Giants at home for the first time since 1964, is a three-point choice; Philadelphia is a three-point pick over Pittsburgh and St. Louis is favored by one over Chicago.

Dear Abby

Boy, can he ever hustle!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For 18 years I have been married to a handsome, charming professional man. He is also an incurable philanderer. When we walk into a room filled with strangers, I can pick his victim within 10 minutes.

No one would suspect that he would follow up a cocktail party flirtation, but he does. I have covered up for him many times, and have stayed with him for the sake of the children, hoping each affair would be his last. Everyone thinks we are an ideal couple. They should only know!

Abby, does a leopard ever change his spots?

LEOPARD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You have your animals confused. Yours is a wolf. Covering up for a philandering husband is no way to cure him. The wife who raises the roof early in her marriage may not change her leopard's spots, but she can train him before he gets too wild.

DEAR ABBY: My darling wife of over 40 years (I'll call her Bertha) has to have a cigarette in her hand every minute or she's not happy. That's not all, she is too vain to wear glasses all the time, so she is always missing the ash tray, so we have cigarette burns in most of our tables and a couple of her favorite chairs. I have brought home ash trays as big as a fry pan, but she misses those, too.

When we are guests in the homes of friends, the hostess doesn't take her eyes off Bertha for fear she'll burn up something.

Won't you please say something in your column to let my missus know I love her but I wish she'd quit smoking?

LARRY

DEAR LARRY: You've said it all, Larry. Just see that your missus doesn't miss this column.

DEAR ABBY: When someone has lost a member of his family by suicide, what should friends do?

It doesn't seem right to just ignore the situation, yet you can't write and say, "I am sorry to hear that your brother shot himself." (Or should I say, "Shot himself—ACCIDENTALLY?" Would that be better?)

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Offer your condolences, but do not mention the circumstances.

DEAR ABBY: I have never heard of a big belly getting in the way of true love. In the 15 years Joey and I have been married, Joey gained 55 pounds, and I gained 40. But if he can stand MY big belly, I can stand HIS. We both want to thank you for a wonderful column.

FAT BUT HAPPY

DEAR FAT: And I want to thank you for a wonderful belly laugh.

Prices Rose Four Per Cent From The Beginning Of Year, Statistics Say

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—Uncle Sam's statisticians the other day confirmed what every homemaker knows: Prices rose four per cent from the beginning of the year.

Inflation's grip on the purse-strings makes even more frantic the search for ways to stretch the shrinking dollar.

Economists have suggestions, but no tricky formulas. The following tips may help you in the battle.

—Buy only what you need. Use a shopping list on supermarket trips. Try planning meals ahead of time. That makes it easier to stretch the food budget. Take advantage of weekend specials, sales on canned products. Done properly, this approach can shave about 10 per cent from weekly food bills.

—Do it yourself. Savings are ahead if you do your own hair, dry cleaning, painting, clothing repairs, small household fix-its.

Read Fine Print

—Shop for credit. The best policy is to avoid charging or borrowing large sums. When borrowing is necessary, compare credit costs. Read the fine print in a loan contract. Depending on the locality, it's perfectly legal for some loan companies to charge from 24 to 42 per cent if you can't afford the credit charges, saving for the purchase will be the wiser course.

—Shop the sales for household goods. Right now, for example, is a good time to buy spring and summer items such as air conditioners, lawn mowers, garden tools—provided they're marked down.

—Pay in advance. Save by paying insurance premiums annually rather than in installments. Savings add up to a surprising amount if, for example, you carry auto, life and homeowners insurance.

Clearance Sales

Many women with a good grip on the pursestrings save a bundle through the year by buying at clearance sales for family clothing.

If the stores near you still have summer and spring items on the clearance racks, go over them like an inch worm.

In the spring, purchase fall and winter clothing.

When you develop the technique to a fine point, you'll even do your Christmas shopping a year in advance—at the after-sale sales. That includes cards and gift wrapping.

Financial survival's the name of the game.

Department Meet Of Creative Arts Held On Monday

The Creative Arts Department of the Murray Woman's Club met Monday, September 22, at nine-thirty o'clock in the morning in the basement of the club house.

Mrs. Macon Blankenship, chairman, presided and welcomed the new members. Mrs. Eff Birdsong, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes followed by the treasurer's report by Mrs. Buford Hurt.

Mrs. Birdsong read a letter of thanks from Miss Jeanette Cathey, winner of the department's Art Scholarship. The department voted to give this scholarship to an outstanding student of the Art Department at Murray State again this year. Mrs. Ralph Tessenier is scholarship chairman.

Plans for the annual Creative Arts Bazaar to be held in a downtown store this fall were reported by Mrs. Don Hunter, bazaar chairman. She and other members of the department displayed many lovely items and ideas for the bazaar.

Several members worked on various projects for the bazaar. Other committee members are Mrs. Aude McKee, Mrs. Ray Sinclair, Mrs. Robert O. Miller, Mrs. H. Ed Chrisman, and Mrs. Cleburne Adams, program; Mrs. Ben Trevathan, civic; Mrs. Edward Ken Adams, publicity; Mrs. K. W. Russell, finance.

Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served by the hostesses who were Mrs. Jack Andersen, Mrs. Charles Archer, and Mrs. Jack Blackwell.

Aurora Homemakers Monthly Meeting Was Wednesday, Sept. 17

The Aurora Homemakers met Wednesday for the regular monthly meeting, at the Masonic Hall. The meeting was called to order by club president, Mrs. Willard Beasley. A devotional from Psalm 119, with tribute to God for the beauties of the world around us, was read by Mrs. Treva Oakley. The members answered the roll call by recalling their first school teacher. Plans were made to attend the District meeting, to be held at the Kenlake next week.

Officers for the coming year were elected, they will take office in January. Elected were: Mrs. Tommy Mathis, president; Mrs. Willard Beasley, vice president; Mrs. Charles Morgan, secretary; Mrs. Wayne Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Mac Tucker, recreation leader; and Mrs. Henry Richardson, reporter.

The meeting was adjourned with pot-luck dinner served and an interesting lesson of "Food Facts" by Mrs. Charles Morgan and Mrs. Beasley. Hostesses for the meeting was Mrs. Billy Wilson. Present were the following: Mrs. Beasley, Jerry Sirls, Wayne Miller, Charles Morgan, Homer Morgan, Mac Tucker, Henry Richardson, Tommy Mathis, Jerry Turner, Danny Cochran, Roy Tucker, Treva Oakley, Miss Venus Oakley and the hostess.

Women's Society Of Good Shepherd Has September Meeting

The Women's Society of Good Shepherd United Methodist Church held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, September 16, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Lassiter asked Mrs. Billy Mahan to open the meeting with prayer. Twelve members responded to the roll call by Mrs. R. Q. Knight. The minutes were read by Mrs. Ed Knight.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Jim Wilson who introduced the program leaders, Mrs. A. O. Woods and Mrs. Walter Wilson.

Their very interesting program presentation was "Profile of An Involved Woman". The purpose was to share the experience of one woman as she worked to bring about peace, social justice, and recognition of the unity of all persons, the leaders said.

The next meeting will be a call to prayer and self denial on October 21 at ten a.m. The WSCS of Good Shepherd expects a special invitation to all ladies in the WSCS in the Parish district to attend the Day Apart service at the church on Thursday, October 30, at 9:30 a.m. at Good Shepherd.

Miss Paulette Markovich Is Installed As Worthy Advisor Of Rainbow For Girls

Murray Assembly No. 19 Order of the Rainbow for Girls held its installation of officers for the ensuing term at the last regular Tuesday meeting at the Masonic Hall.

The retiring worthy advisor, Miss Patricia Evans, presided at the opening. Miss Betsy Riley, recorder, elected for a year, read the minutes.

Serving as installing officers were Twila Coleman, worthy advisor; Brenda Newberry, chaplain; Lynn Watson, marshal; Betsy Riley, recorder; Dorothy Boone, musician; Flavi Robertson, confidential observer; George Williams, mother observer; Lillian Robertson, mother advisor.

Officers installed for the coming term were Paulette Markovich, worthy advisor; Tresa McCord, worthy associate advisor; Irene Futrell, charity; Linda Showman, hope; Denise Kalberer, faith; Joyce Winchester, chaplain; Patricia Evans, drill leader; Marilyn Lasater, love; Lisa Robertson, religion; Paula Cook, nature; Vickie Cathey, fidelity; Connie Niccum, patriotism; Barbara Sledd, confidential observer; Kris Kimball, outer observer; Barbie Keel, choir director; Donna Knight, choir member.

The girls all carried nosegays of white dillies centered with orange roses and white-ribbon streamers. Miss Markovich presented corsages to Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Robertson.

The newly installed worthy advisor has chosen as her colors, orange and white; her flower, orange rose; theme, "Love and Service"; emblem, "Praying Hands"; scripture Psalms 23; songs, "He" and "How Great Thou Art".

She introduced as her special guests her sister, Pat, brother-in-law, Mike Bray, and son, Mikey, Mrs. Bobbie Evans, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Markovich, presenting them with gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Markovich presented Paulette with a gavel and bracelet holding charms representing the offices in Rainbow she has filled while a member. Mikey and Pat presented Paulette with a necklace.

Linda Showman and Irene Futrell distributed gifts to each member of the Murray Assembly from Paulette, while gifts from Paulette were given to the installing officers by Patricia Evans.

Preceding the meeting an addendum was given in honor of Miss Evans, and following the close of the meeting an addendum was given for Miss Markovich.

Earning merit bar awards this term were Rosetta Robertson, Betsy Riley, Linda Showman, Marilyn Lasater, and Patricia Evans.

Miss Linda Showman was presented a hospital award for giving service of over one hundred and fifty hours.

Also present for the meeting was Pat Evans, father of the retiring worthy advisor.

After the close of the meeting a social hour was held with refreshments of punch and cake being served from a beautifully appointed table. Mr. and Mrs. Markovich were hosts for the social hour.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 7, at seven p.m. at the Masonic Hall.

Queen Elizabeth II Buys New Outfit For Each Engagement; Home Cloth Simple

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI)—For a woman who requires an uncommon number of new clothes, Queen Elizabeth II is extraordinarily thrifty.

She buys a new outfit for important occasions at home and absolutely every engagement, big or little, when she goes visiting abroad—as a sort of compliment to her hosts. That's public life.

But her clothes for private life, kept in a completely separate wardrobe on the opposite side of her big dressing room adjoining her blue bedroom at Buckingham Palace, show no signs of such lavishness.

Favorite Style

With her liking for country pursuits whenever she is off duty, the queen is most likely to be found relaxing in a comfortable suit. She does not need many new ones because she has an unchanging favorite style: box-pleated skirt touching the knees, figure-fitting jacket.

Her thrift falls by the wayside when she has to get new outfits for public appearances because she is, and must look, her role. Her couture designers, Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies, are working right now on a particularly big order. The queen will be touring

New Zealand most of March and Australia from March 30 to May 3. She will wear a new dress for every engagement, which means several for each day.

At fairly regular intervals, the queen is accused of dressing badly. Hollywood designer Robert Blackwell, who concocts an annual list of the world's worst dressed women, took aim when he visited London recently. The queen looks "dowdy and quite old. . . far, far too traditional," he said.

Dresses Her Age

The queen, who is 43, does not dress to look younger than her age. She goes to traditional designers — Hartnell is 68, Amies is 60—and feels she ought to follow certain rules. She wears gloves and loose sleeves because she shakes so many hands. She wears her skirts to the knee because she does not want to show an ungainly amount of leg climbing into or out of cars. She chooses shoes for comfort when standing up rather than for fashion.

Twice a year she goes through her wardrobes to update them. Her state gowns are destroyed so that no one else can wear them, but her other clothes are sent to charity organizations. All labels and identifying marks are removed so the recipient will never know she is going around in clothes once worn by a queen.

Murray State Home Economics Club Has Thursday Meet

The Murray State University's Home Economics Club held its first meeting on Thursday, September 25, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening in the Multipurpose Room of the home economics department.

Mary Casper Edwards, president, presided and recognized the officers for the new year. She asked the members and faculty present to identify themselves.

The new treasurer, Cathy Harris, gave her report. Margaret McDaniel, secretary, read the minutes and explained about the membership dues giving the qualifications and benefits of joining the American Home Economics Association.

The members were urged to join both organizations.

Peggy Cooper, chairman of the Mum Sale, gave a report on the value and importance of the sale to the club. She also told of new aspects added to the sale this year. The president announced that the Eastern-Kentucky Workshop would be held October 17-18 at Richmond. The theme for the meeting is "Professionalism" and a tentative program was discussed.

Donna Honchul, vice-president, announced the program at the meeting would be "Get Acquainted." Norma Walter, the recreation chairman, led the activities. A skit was given by Margot Ellis and Doris

HUNTERS SEEKING DOVE AND SQUIRREL

While fishermen are enjoying the first fruits of the fall fishing season a great segment of Kentucky sportsmen are hunting are preparing to hunt numerous species of wildlife which are now legal or will be legal in a short time. To bring this host of hunters up to date today's column will be devoted to the seasons and the bare facts about legal harvests and other rules governing the taking of various species of game.

Right now squirrel and dove hunting is legal. The squirrel season opened on August 18 and will continue through the month of October. It then will be closed until November 20 when it will reopen for the remainder of November and all of December. Again this year the bag limit is six and the possession limit is 12 after two or more days of hunting.

The dove season, which is split again and which is for only half-day hunting, opened on September 1 and will continue through October 31. It will reopen on December 1 and continue through December 9. The daily limit has been raised to 18 this year, with a possession limit of 36 after two or more days of hunting.

Squirrel hunters are very well satisfied with what they are finding in many sections, while in other areas the population is down from last year's high. In the early part of the season, squirrels were not sighted in great numbers and hunters were disappointed. But with the advancement of the food crop the squirrels began to concentrate in the food trees and better harvests are reported.

As for doves, the population is adequate but because of the late harvest of corn and other grain concentrations, have been difficult to find. It is as simple as this: If good food supplies are available, then the doves will be found.

Archery hunting has grown rapidly in Kentucky in the past few years and one of the reasons for this is the long deer hunting season open in all 120 counties. Two full months of hunting for either the buck or the doe are available in this state and approximately 7,000 bow and arrow enthusiasts are expected to take to the field during October and December. Only one deer may be harvested per year either by gun or bow and arrow and a special deer hunting tag is required in addition to a valid hunting license.

Next to open will be the goose hunting season — November 3 through January 11 with a bag and possession limit of five which may not include more than two Canadas or two white-fronted or one of each.

The gun deer season, of five days in 98 counties, opens on November 12 and continues through November 16, with bucks only being taken in 95 counties and with either sex in Barren, Edmonson and Hart counties. Again a hunter must have a special deer hunting permit in addition to his valid hunting license.

The rabbit and quail seasons open on November 20 and extend through January 31. The bag limits for these species are unchanged from last year with six rabbits per day and 12 in possession and with 10 quail daily and 20 in possession. On that same opening date grouse may be hunted. This season opens on November 20 and extends through February 28 with a bag limit of four and a possession limit of eight.

Early indications are that the rabbit population will be greater this year than the low yield of last season and that the quail supply will be about the same as the adequate hunting that was furnished last year.

The statewide duck hunting season opens on November 28 and extends through December 27. The bag limit is four which limit may not include more than two mallards, two wood ducks, one redhead or one canvasback. The possession limit of eight may include not more than four mallards, four wood ducks, or one canvasback or one redhead. The statewide shooting hours for waterfowl are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. A special date for hunting waterfowl has been set for the Ballard County Wildlife Management Area. The duck season opens on December 1 and continues through December 27 and the goose season opens on the same date but ends on January 10. The bag and possession limits on this area are unchanged from the statewide rules, except only morning hunting is permitted and no Sunday or Christmas Day shooting is allowed. Hunters must obtain a permit to hunt on this area and will be checked in and out of the area.

That's the rundown for hunting except for the furbearers. Animals that are harvested for their pelts may be taken beginning on December 20 and on through January 31. There is no limit on the number of such animals that may be taken.

Fishing

FRANKFORT, Ky. UPI — The State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources reported Monday that fall-like weather has brought out increased numbers of fishermen.

Over the weekend, good catches of croppie and black bass were reported.

The lake-by-lake rundown:

Visitors To Buffalo Range

GOLDEN POND, KENTUCKY, —Land Between the Lakes officials estimated that over 3,000 people visited the buffalo range last Sunday, the Tennessee Valley Authority announced today. A Land Between the Lakes patrolman counted 177 cars parked alongside the range in a one-hour check Sunday afternoon.

The herd of 20 buffalo, which were shipped here from Theodore Roosevelt National Memorial Park near Medora, North Dakota, arrived at their new home near the former site of Model, Tennessee, at 1 a.m. Friday, September 19. One of the buffalo, a yearling bull, was injured and died shortly after arriving in Land Between the Lakes. The remaining 19 animals, ranging from one to two years of age, are in excellent health and appear to like the surroundings of their new range. The buffalo, once native to this area of Tennessee and Kentucky, are located alongside The Trace (Tennessee

"Fishing Unlimited" Weekends Planned At Kenlake Park

By C. F. Smith
The Kentucky Department of Parks offers two big "FISHING UNLIMITED" weekends, October 10-12 at Kenlake State Resort Park and November 7-9 at Lake Cumberland State Resort Park.

Visitors who would like to see the buffalo should plan to arrive in the morning or late afternoon. The buffalo seem to prefer the cool shade of the forested portion of the pasture during midday. To reach the buffalo range from Tennessee, turn north off U. S. 79 onto Tennessee 49 and drive approximately 12 miles; from Kentucky turn south off U. S. 68 onto Kentucky 453, and it's approximately 14 miles to the range. Visitors entering Land Between the Lakes from across the Scott Fitzhugh Bridge on U. S. 79 can also reach the range by turning left onto the Fort Henry-Blue Spring Road which leads to The Trace.

A limited number of reservations are still available. Contact: Lake Cumberland State Resort Park, Jamestown, Ky. 42629 - telephone (502) 343-7311, or Kenlake State Resort Park, Hardin, Ky. 42048 - telephone (502) 474-2211.

Cold Power?

The revolutionary new H-D Winchester-Western shell features a shot charge packed in powdered polyethylene. The cushion of white plastic "sawdust" prevents deforming of shot pellets in the HD magnum and gives amazingly uniform patterns.

Some HD loads were shipped to state game departments for field testing, and one game manager wrote back: "I cut open one of the shells and it appears to be packed with laundry detergent. What's the deal?"

The unofficial reply from W-W was: "Well, you want clean kills, don't you?"

.310 Skeet Game Cheap, Safe

Finding a place to enjoy the target shooting sports within easy reach of home poses real problems for most residents of heavily populated areas. Conventional rifle and pistol ranges or clay target setups require considerable amounts of land which is seldom available in urban sections. Then, too, there is the possibility that the noise may annoy neighbors.

A NEW CLAY target game developed by Remington Arms Company, Inc., may go a long way toward solving some of these difficulties.

Known as "310 Skeet," it utilizes a self-contained shooting station which occupies only 30 square feet; small size clay targets, and a break-open, single-shot .310 caliber shotgun which fires a rim fire shot cartridge loaded with No. 11 shot. And it's inexpensive.

The shells, which sound like a muffled 22, have a maximum range of 125 yards and are truly effective on the 2 3/4" diameter, one-ounce clay birds at distances up to 60 feet.

Thus, the installations are ideal for golf driving ranges, public parks and recreation areas, beach resorts and summer camps. Many conventional gun clubs like them also since they are an ideal way of getting new shooters started.

William Morris, Louisville, Leader in Fall Fishing Derby

The fourth week of the Kentucky Lake Fall Fishing Derby produced a new leader in the black bass "A" Division.

William Morris of Louisville pulled in a seven pound eight ounce black bass. Thomas Crone of Cincinnati is in third place with his seven pound one ounce black bass. All of the black bass leaders are now over seven pounds in the "A" Division.

Charles Loehr of Mt. Vernon, Illinois took the lead in the crappie class, "B" Division, with a two pound two ounce catch.

The crappie class in the "A" Division is a real race with four entries of one pound ten ounce. Each tied for second place.

PFC. KENNETH PEASE

Rites For War Victim Saturday

MAYFIELD, Ky., Sept. 25—Funeral services for Pfc. Kenneth Wayne Pease, 20, Hickory Rt. 1, will be held 2 p.m. Saturday at Byrns Funeral Chapel with the Rev. J. W. Crowley and the Rev. Thomas Rose officiating.

Burial will be in Woodlawn Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Pease, Sr., and two brothers, Jesse A. Pease Jr., of Lone Oak, and Billy Joe Pease of Hickory.

Pfc. Pease was killed in South Vietnam on Sept. 16.

He attended Lowes High School before entering the Army. He was serving with the 20th Infantry Division, Company C of the First Battalion.

From mom to spinster

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gloria Leachman, who once played the maternal role on the "Lassie" show, will portray a spinster in a segment of television's "Lancer" series.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market outlook remains cloudy and threatening "little motes of sunshine" that break through from time to time, according to Diamond, Turk & Co. The firm says the economy's money managers seem much more willing "to err on the side of recession" than on the side of inflation and there has been no measurable progress made in Vietnam since the present administration took office.

"This schizophrenic market has been moving toward all directions -- of the compass, something like a colony of wild bees," Walston & Co. says. As for an upside break in the near term, the firm notes that, while there has been deep gloom in the financial district recently, "there could be a major rally in spite of everything."

Although there is evidence the upward pace of business activity is slackening because of monetary restraint, it is more likely that business strength will weaken early next year rather than in the closing months of 1969, according to E.F. Hutton & Co. The firm says recent market performance suggests that the stocks in the DJ industrial average may soon begin catching up with the rest of the market.

For New Year's Eve

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The Elizabeth Taylor-Warren Beatty picture, "The Only Game in Town," will be 20th Century-Fox's New Year's Eve release.

Let Me Write

by Darrell Shoemaker

Of Calloway County's most illustrious sons, Harry Lee Waterfield must be considered, he knocked on the Governor's door twice, and then let us stretch it out a bit, by saying Alben Barkley did the same thing once, on the National scene. Both with distinction too. Not a bad record for the Jackson Purchase, always written off by the Democrats.

Frank Albert Stubblefield reminds me of Lyndon B. Johnson before Johnson became President. They got more done with the least noise, of any Senator or Congressman on the Hill.

You saw more shelled corn come out of the fields in August than all the rest of your life put together, but you take boys like Gus Robertson, Jr., Thurston Furches, Duff and Stark Erwin, Alfred Taylor, and a dozen more you could name are "go-getters." They just won't let it stay out in the cold.

No four cornering lots in Murray will bring more cash today than the four at Chestnut and Twelfth Streets. You might pick one, but four, no.

Effie Kingins, Lois Waterfield, and Ella Hamlin qualify for today's LADY SENIOR CITIZENS, and can you think of three better ones to be recognized?

There must be four times as many horses in Calloway County today than there was twenty years ago, but where are the mules? Shetland ponies were the biggest things on the market ten years ago, but the trend to bigger breeds shows us how fast the young set grow up.

Old stuff
DETROIT (UPI)—Warnings that cigarette smoking may be harmful to your health aren't anything new.

According to "5000 Facts and Fancies" published by Gale Research Co. of Detroit, King James I of England penned this blast against smoking back in the early 1600s:

"It is a custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in the black."

Autopsy To Be Fought By Family

WILKESBARRE, Pa. (UPI)—An attorney for the family of Mary Jo Kopechne, killed when Sen. Edward Kennedy's car ran off a bridge in Massachusetts, said Friday he planned to challenge the latest legal attempt for an autopsy on the girl's body.

Joseph F. Flanagan said he had two alternatives under study.

"Either we can file an answer and go into a hearing in court," he said. "Or, we can ask the court to dismiss the amended petition of Mr. Edmund Dinis A. Massachusetts District Attorney for legal reasons."

Kennedy told newsmen in Boston Thursday night, when asked to comment on the allegations in Dinis' petition: "I would say those who tend to look for things in this case are going to be disappointed."

Flanagan noted the Dinis petition for exhumation and autopsy alleged for the first time that blood was found on the clothing and in the mouth and nose of Miss Kopechne after her body was recovered from the Kennedy car.

"The mere fact that some things were recited in the amended petition does not mean they won't have to be proved," he said. "We will still have to take testimony on them."

Flanagan also said there "was some question" about the effectiveness of the benzidine test for human blood. But he declined to elaborate.

Luzerne County Judge Bernard C. Bromisky set Sept. 29 for a hearing on the petition.

Smothers Brothers File Suit At CBS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Smothers Brothers, in what they promised was their "last word" on the cancellation of their television show, have sued the Columbia Broadcasting System for $31 million.

The two comedians made the announcement Wednesday at a news conference featuring the same mixture of social comment and satire of their variety show dropped by CBS five months ago after a censorship hassle.

The legal action, actually a series of three lawsuits, charged CBS with infringement of the brothers' constitutional rights of free expression, violation of antitrust laws and breach of contract.

CBS cancelled the show in May saying the Smothers brothers consistently failed to comply with their contract obligation to deliver tapes of the program in time for review by the network's programs practices department in New York and for preview to affiliate stations which would air the show.

Baseball Roundup

American League

The Washington Senators haven't had it so good since Harry S. Truman was President.

The Senators, a perennial second division team in the American League over the past two decades, today were guaranteed of their first season better than .500 in 17 years after defeating the Cleveland Indians, 4-1, Friday night.

Since 1952, when the Senators finished 78-76, there have been five Presidents, two states added to the Union and man has landed on the moon. The Senators also have had six managers during that time.

Ted Williams, who took over as manager this year, has been the team's most successful since Ossie Bluege in the mid-1940s. The Senators' victory Friday night was the team's 82nd—the most by any Washington team since 1945.

A grand slam homer by Lee Maye in the fifth inning, and the six-hit pitching of Joe Coleman provided the Senators with their fourth victory in a row Friday night.

Other League Action
In other AL games, Boston edged Detroit, 6-5, New York topped Baltimore, 4-2, Oakland beat California, 3-1, Kansas City edged Chicago, 5-3 at Milwaukee and Seattle beat Minnesota, 4-3 in 14 innings.

National League

Orlando Cepeda may be a big reason why the Braves think they're a good bet to bring Atlanta its first World Series, but Cepeda isn't quite as optimistic.

Cepeda smashed a grand slam home run in the third inning Friday night to pace the Atlanta Braves' 10-4 romp over San Diego. Unlike his teammates, he remained shy of predictions.

Cepeda, who played in the last two World Series in for St. Louis, wasn't bubbling with optimism over the Braves' chances of taking the pennant. "This game's too tough to say," murmured Cepeda, "You've got to win one today and win one tomorrow. Win them one at a time."

Teammate Phil Niekro, who won his 22nd game for the National League's Western Division leaders, wasn't so cautious, however.

"The way we're playing now," enthused Niekro, "we can't be beat."

The victory kept the Braves 1½ games in front of second-place San Francisco in the West and reduced the Braves' "magic number" to four for clinching the division title. Any combination of Atlanta victories and San Francisco losses adding up to four will win it for the Braves.

In other National League action, New York shut out Philadelphia 5-0, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Houston, 3-0 and 4-3, Pittsburgh blanked Chicago, 2-0, St. Louis romped over Montreal, 12-1 and San Francisco edged Los Angeles, 2-1.

Walter Gordon, Marshall Native, Dies In Arkansas

Walter Gordon, 88, brother of Mrs. Bertie Watkins of Paducah, died at 3 a.m. today in Jacksonville, Ark. He was a former resident of Marshall County.

Besides his sister, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Reba Drumwright of Cabot, Ark., and Mrs. Reggie Kloss of Jacksonville; two sons, Tom Gordon of Jacksonville and Duke Gordon of Little Rock, Ark.; one brother, Henry Gordon of Hardin Rt. 1; and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

THREE AGENTS SHOT

CHAMPLAIN, N.Y. (UPI)—Three U.S. Customs agents were shot early today while questioning a man at the Canadian border in this north-eastern New York community.

The wounded agents were taken to the Plattsburgh Medical Center. Their injuries and conditions were not immediately available.

State police, the border patrol, customs and immigration men were joined by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and provincial police in a manhunt for the assailant. The suspect was believed on foot in the mountainous rural area.

SEEN & HEARD

tion schedule was already tight as a drum. Thousands of dollars were at stake and the management was frantic. No one at the factory knew what to do. The company which manufactured the machine was called and said they'd be glad to send an engineer out to look at it, but they were located in a city 2,000 miles across the country, all planes were grounded by a severe fog and so they couldn't tell just when he'd get there. The president tore his hair. A young executive spoke up. "I know of an elderly millwright who claims he can fix any machine. Shall I call him?"

"Yes," said the president frantically. "I'll try anything. We've got to get that machine fixed right away or we'll lose the Johnson order and all their business!"

A half hour later, an old man with a tool box was escorted up to the machine. The factory's top brass hovered about him nervously as he walked around the machine, studying it from all angles. At last he reached into his tool box and extracted a rubber hammer. Carefully selecting a spot on the machine's motor housing, he tapped it sharply once, with the hammer. The machine hummed into life again, and ran steadily.

The factory president mopped his head with a handkerchief. "What do we owe you, friend?" he asked. "I want to pay you right now!"

"A hundred dollars," said the old fellow.

The president's eyebrows shot up. "Oh come on now... you did a good job, sure but that seems like quite a lot!"

"It would have cost you a lot more if some feller from the factory where they made this machine had come out to fix it," pointed out the old man.

"Well yes," admitted the president, "but all you did was to hit it once with a hammer!"

"You want me to itemize what I did?" said the old millwright, quietly. A bit uncertainly, the president nodded.

So the old man took a pencil stub out of his pocket and one the back of an old envelope wrote these words:

For hitting the machine once with hammer ..... $ 1.00

For knowing where and how hard to hit ..... $99.00

"SENATORS" - NEVER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., interrupted Senate debate Thursday to ask a moment's pause "to give recognition to a simple, yet stirring victory of the human spirit." Javits said he was referring, "of course," to the long, hard struggle of the New York Mets into first place and, finally to the championship of the National League's Eastern Division. Said Javits: "The triumph of the Mets is a true inspiration to underdogs everywhere."

an, the University of Kentucky graduate has, traveled more than a half million miles in Kentucky since 1945 and has been assigned in each of the state's 120 counties at least one time each year.

He joined the Louisville newspaper in 1941 after graduating from college where he was sports editor of the student newspaper and the campus yearbook and was voted the most popular man on campus.

In 1960, he coordinated the writing of "The Civil War in Kentucky," the first newspaper supplement to win the National Civil War Centennial Commission's Award of Distinction.

their own 40, the Bulldogs took to the air. A Green to Erickson pass put the ball on the Murray 42. A Green to Moore pass put it on the Murray 29. Bob Nanney passed to James Pawlukiewicz for the marker.

James Myers, 200 pound tackle and one of the finest high school kickers in western Kentucky, banged the ball through for the extra point. Myers put on a kicking exhibition all night, driving the Tigers back to their own goal line, time after time, to place the Bulldogs in good position.

Only one score was made in their period of the game. Murray High took the ball on their own 22 yard line on a punt and Porter McCuiston took the ball and raced the length of the field for the TD. 9:17 showed on the clock in the third quarter. Johnny Williams run attempt failed.

Porter McCuiston put on another running exhibition with 3:25 left in the third period when he took the ball from center Pat Ryan on his own 38 and filtered through the entire Fulton line to go all the way. He outran three pursuers over the last forty yards to reach the goal line. This play was called back because of a clipping penalty.

Fulton took a Murray quick kick on their own 22. Erickson, on a pass to Pawlukiewicz, got the ball to the Murray 20. A pass to Hoyt Moore moved it to the Murray 10 as the quarter ended.

Fulton opened the final period with a fine pichout from Bob Nanney to Kim Homra who raced the distance to the Tiger goal line for the second Fulton score of the game. Big James Myers sunk his toe in the ball

Tripp Williams (83) went high in the air in the end zone to pull down this Johnny Williams pass to make good a two point conversion attempt in the second quarter of last night's game. Murray's Danny Carroll (30) is throwing up his arms signaling the PAT while Kim Homra (20) and Mike Tate (50) of Fulton County look on.
